Airport Updates

2021 Was a Big Year for Colorado's Small Airport

In 2021, Colorado Springs Airport (COS) began the year facing many of the challenges seen in 2020. Nationwide air service was down and airlines had significantly reduced service. Even though we followed such a challenging year, 2021 was a big year in many ways for COS. The addition of Southwest Airlines, development and growth in Peak Innovation Park and countless staff and industry awards culminated for a great year. Read all about the successful year in the 2021 Annual Report.
